Our Approach

Our mission is to provide advisors with investment strategies that can help clients stay on track to reach their long term goals. We do this by creating investment strategies designed to help clients remain committed to their individual financial plans.

EXPERIENCE

Our Portfolio Managers have an average of 28 years of industry experience, helping you expand the expertise you provide your clients.

DISCIPLINE

Using a combination of fundamental and quantitative research, our investment approach is unemotional and repeatable.

PARTNERSHIP

We provide a truly collaborative approach to portfolio construction, taking the time to listen, learn, and help investors achieve their goals.

Our Philosophy

We believe that investors are best served through a diverse selection of asset classes and investment approaches that closely align with their investment goals.

Our investment philosophy is grounded in three core principles: meaningful diversification, opportunistic asset allocation, and risk management:

MEANINGFUL DIVERSIFICATION

We incorporate multiple global asset classes and methodologies into a portfolio that is aligned to the client's life goals.

OPPORTUNISTIC ASSET ALLOCATION

We utilize an active approach to asset allocation that allows us to take advantage of growth opportunities in a rapidly changing global marketplace.

RISK MANAGEMENT

We believe that personalized risk management can help clients remain committed to reaching their long-term goals, regardless of the ups and downs of the markets.

Investment Process

Our goal is to provide meaningful diversification through a bottom-up, fundamental investment process combined with a top-down, quantitative approach.

In our fundamental, bottom-up strategies, portfolio managers utilize an active approach to individual security selection. Each stock and bond is carefully analyzed by our team of investment professionals and handpicked for each portfolio.

In our quantitative, top-down strategies, portfolio managers utilize a disciplined, relative strength approach. This relative strength approach drives our tactical shifts in the portfolios that seek opportunities and guard against undue risks.

A Commitment to Asset Management Excellence

Clark Capital is honored to be recognized by leading industry publications and institutions for our dedication to serving advisors and their clients.

Personalized Portfolio Management

We understand that every client is unique. That's why we use a client-first investment process to ensure your investment plan is aligned with your overall financial plan. Working closely with you and your financial advisor, we create a personalized portfolio tailored to your long-term goals and objectives.

Portfolio Management Designed for Your Unique Needs

Preparation and Goal Identification

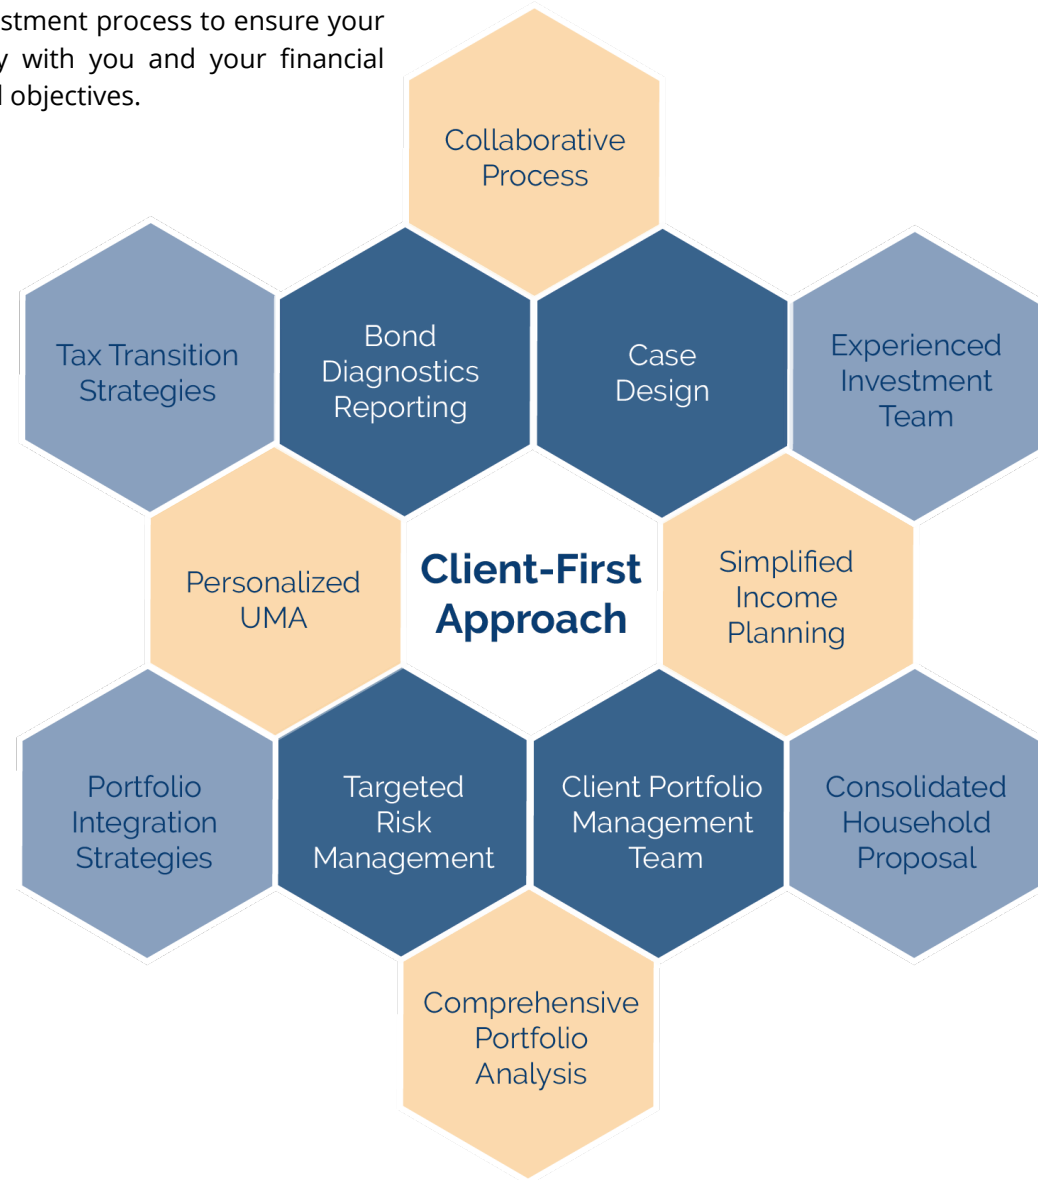

With the help of your financial advisor, we review your current financial picture and clearly define your goals and income needs.

Collaboration

We collaborate with you and your financial advisor to identify your diversification needs and select investment strategies based on your goals.

Implementation and Monitoring

Our Investment Team actively manages, monitors and adjusts your portfolio as needed. Individual securities are used whenever possible to help keep costs low and we perform ongoing tax-loss harvesting in an effort to lower the impact of taxes over time.

The benefits of tax loss harvesting, if any, in reducing an investor's tax liability will depend on the investor's entire tax and investment circumstances, including but not limited to: income, state of residence, the purchases and dispositions of assets in household accounts outside of Clark Capital, type of investment, and investment holding period. Investors should confer with their personal tax advisor regarding the tax consequences of investing with Clark Capital. Past performance is not indicative of future results. Please see the Important Disclosures section at the end of this proposal for additional information.

Are Your Emotions at Odds with Your Goals?

Greed and fear are the emotions that may keep investors from meeting their goals.

"Be fearful when others are greedy, be greedy when others are fearful."
-Warren Buffett

Average Investor vs the Market

The market earned 5.62% while the average equity investor only earned 3.88% during a 20 year period.

As of 12/31/2018, Source: Dalbar, Inc.

Any risk management processes discussed include an effort to monitor and manage risk, but should not be confused with and do not imply low risk or the ability to control risk.

These visuals are shown for illustrative purposes only and do not guarantee success or a certain level of performance.

Investors are most likely to invest at market peaks and "cash out" at low points, locking in losses. With the help of Sample Advisor, your financial advisor, and Clark Capital as your asset manager, we believe you may be less likely to experience the pitfalls of unguided investors and more likely to stay committed to achieving your financial goals.

Navigate Your Future. Enjoy the Journey.

This presentation contains hypothetical performance. Hypothetical performance is prepared with the benefit of hindsight and is provided for informational and illustrative purposes only. While the hypothetical performance results shown represent a blend of actual historical performance of two or more Clark Capital strategies, the aggregate performance is hypothetical in nature, as actual clients may not have been invested in the strategy over the entire period shown. In fact, there are frequently sharp differences between hypothetical performance results and the actual results subsequently achieved.

Hypothetical performance results have many inherent limitations, including those described below:

- The hypothetical performance shown does not reflect the impact that material economic and market factors might have had on Clark Capital's actual decision making.
- The hypothetical performance shown does not involve financial risk, and no hypothetical performance calculation can completely account for the impact of financial risk on an actual investment strategy.
- The ability to withstand actual losses or to adhere to a particular investment strategy in spite of losses are material points which can adversely affect actual performance results.
- The hypothetical performance results shown include the reinvestment of income and do not reflect taxes.

The hypothetical performance shown is provided for informational and illustrative purposes to indicate historical performance had the strategy been available over the entire period shown.

Index returns are rebalanced monthly and reflect the reinvestment of income and other earnings.

Navigator International Equity/ADR: The benchmark is the MSCI All Country World ex USA Total Return (MSCI ACWI), a market capitalization weighted index designed to provide a broad measure of equity-market performance throughout the world. References to market indices, benchmarks or other measures of relative market performance over a specified period of time (each, an "index") are provided for your information only. ADDITIONAL DISCLOSURES

Blended Benchmarks

Blended benchmarks used in this presentation represent total returns for a hypothetical investment in a portfolio of each of the indicated indexes for the stated period, allocated between the indexes at the indicated ratio and calculated assuming an annual rebalancing at year-end to the indicated ratio. The indexes are unmanaged and do not include any expenses, fees or sales charges. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

GLOSSARY OF TERMS

Important Disclosures

Alpha: A measure of the difference between a portfolio's actual returns and its expected performance, given its level of risk as measured by beta. A positive alpha figure indicates the portfolio has performed better than its beta would predict. In contrast, a negative alpha indicates the portfolio has underperformed, given the expectations established by beta. Alpha is calculated by taking the excess average monthly return of the investment over the risk free rate and subtracting beta times the excess average monthly return of the benchmark over the risk free rate.

Beta: A measure of systematic risk with respect to a benchmark. Systematic risk is the tendency of the value of the composite and the value of the benchmark to move together. Beta measures the sensitivity of the composite's excess return (total return minus the risk-free return) with respect to the benchmark's excess return that results from their systematic co-movement. It is the ratio of what the excess return of the composite would be to the excess return of the benchmark if there were no composite-specific sources of return. If beta is greater than one, movements in value of the composite that are associated with movements in the value of the benchmark tend to be amplified. If beta is one, they tend to be the same, and if beta is less than one, they tend to be dampened. If such movements tend to be in opposite directions, beta is negative. Beta is measured as the slope of the regression of the excess return on the composite as the dependent variable and the excess return on the benchmark as the independent variable.

The beta of the market is 1.00 by definition. Morningstar calculates beta by comparing a portfolio's excess return over T-bills to the benchmark's excess return over T-bills, so a beta of 1.10 shows that the portfolio has performed 10% better than its benchmark in up markets and 10% worse in down markets, assuming all other factors remain constant. Conversely, a beta of 0.85 indicates that the portfolio's excess return is expected to perform 15% worse than the benchmark's excess return during up markets and 15% better during down markets.

Current Yield: A measure of a security's annual income (interest or dividends) divided by its current price, average weighted based on the asset allocation. Yields reported are gross of fees, the deduction of which will reduce the yield.

Standard Deviation: A statistical measure of dispersion about an average which depicts how widely the returns varied over a certain period of time.
